The device holds and charges a Pebble Smartwatch. Zurrina and Dianne, both sophomores, are also members of the on campus.

The design process took a few weeks after the students came up with the idea and refined it on Autodesk Inventor and printed it on a 3D printer. Skater, speaker to visit OCHS Ryan Ries, co-founder of will speak to students at Ontario Christian High School during chapel at 9:35 a.m. Wednesday, Sept. 28. Mr.

Ries spent a decade as director of Skate Music Marketing for internationally known brands such as Forum Snowboards, C1RCA Footwear, Special Blend, and Foursquare Outerwear. In 2000, he managed one of the top skateboard teams in the world and helped bring the underground skate and music scene together to create the first and largest festival style contest of its kind. As he immersed himself in the skateboard scene, he began using drugs and alcohol and became an addict. While traveling with a skateboard team, he overdosed in Panama City. He underwent a life-changing transformation, made a decision to follow God, and co-founded in 2009 with Sonny Sandoval and Brian Welch to make a positive change in youth culture.

The organization, based in Diamond Bar, partners with rehab centers, public schools, human trafficking groups, and local charities. Mr. Ries, who lives in Orange County, travels around the world to inspire people to stand together and make a difference. Ryan Ries.
